The Rev. T. DeWitt Talmage says—
"A newspaper whose columns overflow with the advertisements of business men, with the result that the public is drawn to it and building up a cult of its own, is a dangerous thing. That can be explained. People go where they can locate what they are interested in. So people are drawn to it and this power should be appreciated."

MERZ BROS.' ADVERTISING is an attempt to give people early news of styles in fashion, of shifts in prices, of opportunities to get GOOD THINGS for LESS than usual. The advertisements are on the people's side; tell of defects, if any; put the purser in possession of facts that bear out what you need; explain natures of hundreds of things that other merchants rarely talk about frankly—manufacturers' secrets, mercantile systems, buyers' rights and privileges.

In a word, the advertisement puts the buyer in possession of circumstances surrounding the advertised article; gives you the benefit of our inside knowledge regarding what you buy, and after you have bought you have the PRIVILEGE of bringing it back and getting your MONEY BACK. That's our way of doing business.

Very truly yours,

The Dead: The Living:

WILLIAM McKinley.

New Orleans Picayune.
Let us of the South mourn for him to-day, for we owe him love and reverence.

New Orleans Times-Democrat.
There is no biot on the escutcheon—there is no spoiled page in the long life-story.

Chicago Daily News.
William McKinley did more than any other President to dissipate sectional feeling.

Brockton Eagle.
McKinley stepped into the skies from the summit points of accomplished finalities.

St. Louis Star.
His Administration will live in history as one of the most auspicious in the annals of the Republic.

Hartford Courant.
Neither our times nor coming times will see in the White House a kindlier, prouder, more lovable gentleman.

Montgomery Advertiser.
It is a general opinion that Mr. McKinley was the most popular President who has ever filled the executive office.

Atlanta Constitution.
The Nation mourns for McKinley; the South kneels at his bier; the whole world sees a weeping but united Nation.

Washington Star.
He has laid the country under such a debt as insures him a place among the greatest men who have ever served it.

St. Paul Globe.
The American character was honored by his life. In purity of mind and purpose he stands next to the immortal Lincoln.

Manchester Union.
The world no honor for an attempt at a measure of the man, who must stand in years to come as a typical American of his time.

Baltimore Sun.
Mr. McKinley was a man of strong and solid mind; if not of brilliant intellectuality, and history will give him high rank among our Presidents.

New York Commercial Advertiser.
That history will give him a place among the wisest and most benevolent and most devoted of our rulers, we predicted with absolute safety.

Philadelphia Inquirer.
When the present excesses in practical forcing the whole world to his way of thinking he must needs be reckoned in history as a great President.

Chicago Post.
He was inlaid into his long sleep by the music of "The Union Forever" as it came softly to his duling senses from the East and the West, from the North and the South.

Detroit Free Press.
The simple truth is all that he would have asked for himself, and that has been expressed, here, perhaps, by Senator Hart, who writes: Mr. McKinley is the best beloved of our Presidents.

Atmosphere Journal.
He did more to unify his party than all of his party had done before him, and whenever he visited the South he was made to feel in numerous manifestations the gratitude of Southern hearts.

Bethel Express.
Splendid as he was as a statesman, inspiring as a political leader, magnetic as a man, great as was his public career, the finest and the noblest side of McKinley's character was the devotion he showed as a husband.

New York Tribune.
How do you like your husband? His wife, Mrs. McKinley, will tell him.

Digests
what you
Eat
Dyspepsia Cure

The agony you suffer after eating, that feeling of fulness, flatulence and belching is caused by decay of undigested food which forms a gas that distends the walls of the stomach and exerts a pressure against all the internal organs. The eating of more food only increases the gas and causes belching. Just take the KODO DYSPEPSIA CURE. It will relieve you at once. It never fails to permanently cure the worst cases of indigestion which were always worse than dyspepsia. Two bottles of KODO DYSPEPSIA CURE will cure dyspepsia and life now seems worth living. Peter Sherman, No. Stratford, N. H.

There is more Custer in this section of the country than in other sections put together, and nothing is more popular than to be invincible. For a great many years doctors pronounced it a local disease, and prescribed local remedies, and the people were told that it was incurable, but now it is known that it is preventable. Incurable, science has proven Custer to be a preventable disease, and there are now many physicians who are curing it. The best treatment is to have a warm bath, manufactured by F. J. Cheney & Co., Toledo, Ohio, is the only constitutional cure on the market.
